To Whom It May Concern:

May 6, 2021

I had the opportunity to work with Elizabeth Cobacho during her collaboration with Pearson for her Harvard Graduate School of Education MS Ed internship. She supported Pearson Middle East in the development of an important research project from January 2021 to May 2021.

Elizabeth created survey questions, ran a pilot survey, collaborated in the distribution of the survey, and contributed to the analysis of the results. She did all of this with insight and impeccable professionalism. This work took place in weekly meetings with Pearson representatives, but a great deal was done on her own initiative, outside of official meetings. Importantly, Elizabeth is also friendly, thoughtful, hardworking, and helpful, which meant she was highly respected by her Pearson counterparts.

Elizabeth's expertise was a valuable contribution to Pearson research, and her skills and insight into the field of education would be an asset to any institution she chooses to join.
